

Grades 5, 6, 7, 8

Adopted 1998

Elements and Skills

Students will identify and perform movement elements and dance skills.

demonstrate the following movement skills and explain the underlying principles: alignment, balance, initiation of movement, articulation of isolated body parts, weight shift, elevation and landing; identify and demonstrate longer and more complex steps and patterns; transfer a spatial pattern from the visual to the kinesthetic; transfer a rhythmic pattern from sound to movement; identify and demonstrate a range of dynamics/movement qualities; demonstrate increasing kinesthetic awareness, concentration and focus in performing a range of movement skills; memorize and reproduce movement sequences and dances; and describe the movement elements observed in a dance, using appropriate movement/dance vocabulary.

Choreography

Students will understand choreographic principles, processes and structures.

use improvisation to generate movement for choreography; create sequences and simple dances that demonstrate the principles of, for example, repetition, contrast, transition and climax; demonstrate successfully the structures or forms of AB, ABA, canon, call and response, and narrative; demonstrate the ability to work cooperatively in pairs and small groups during the choreographic process; demonstrate the following partner skills: creating contrasting and complementary shapes, taking and supporting weight, balance and counter-balance; and describe and analyze the choreographic structure of dance viewed in class, in the theatre, or on video.

Meaning

Students will understand how dance creates and communicates meaning.

effectively demonstrate the difference between pantomiming and creating abstract meaning through dance movement; observe and explain how different accompaniment (such as sound, music, spoken text) can affect the meaning of a dance; demonstrate and/or explain how lighting and costuming can contribute to the meaning of a dance; and explain the meaning of one of their own dances.

Thinking Skills

Students will apply analytical and evaluative thinking skills in dance.

create a movement idea and demonstrate multiple interpretations, choose the most effective and discuss the reasons for their choice; compare and contrast two dance compositions in terms of space (such as shape and pathways), time (such as rhythm and tempo), and force/energy (movement qualities); and identify possible aesthetic criteria for evaluating dance (such as skill of performers, originality, visual and/or emotional impact, variety and contrast, clarity of idea).

History And Cultures

Students will demonstrate an understanding of dance in various cultures and historical periods.

competently perform folk, traditional and/or classical dances from various cultures or time periods, and describe similarities and differences in steps and movement styles; competently perform folk, social and/or theatrical dances from a broad spectrum of 20th century America;

learn from resources (such as people, books and videos) in their own community a folk dance of a different culture or a social dance of a different time period and the cultural/historical context of that dance, effectively sharing the dance and its context with their peers; and describe the role of dance in at least two different cultures or time periods.

Healthful Living

Students will make connections between dance and healthful living.

identify at least three personal goals to improve themselves as dancers and steps they are taking to reach those goals; identify major muscle groups and how they work together to produce movement; create their own warm-up and discuss how that warm-up prepares the body and mind for expressive purposes; and explain strategies to prevent dance injuries.

Connections

Students will make connections between dance, other disciplines and daily life.

cite examples of concepts used in dance and another discipline outside the arts (such as balance, shape, pattern); create a dance project that explores and expresses important ideas from another arts discipline (such as foreground and background, or color, in visual art); and video record a dance produced in class, intensifying or changing the meaning of the dance through the recording process.

Vocal

Students will sing, alone and with others, a varied repertoire of songs.

sing accurately and with good breath control throughout their singing ranges, alone and in small and large ensembles; sing with expression and technical accuracy a repertoire of vocal literature with a difficulty level of 2, on a scale of 1 to 6, including some songs performed from memory; sing music representing diverse genres and cultures, with expression appropriate for the work being performed; and sing music written in two and three parts.

Students who participate in a choral ensemble or class will, in addition, sing with expression and technical accuracy a varied repertoire of vocal literature with a difficulty level of 3, on a scale of 1 to 6, including some songs performed from memory.

Instrumental

Students will play, alone and with others, a varied repertoire of instrumental music.

perform on at least one instrument accurately and independently, alone and in small and large ensembles, with good posture, good playing position and good breath, bow or stick control; perform with expression and technical accuracy on at least one string, wind, percussion or classroom instrument a repertoire of instrumental literature with a difficulty level of 2, on a scale of 1 to 6; perform music representing diverse genres and cultures, with expression appropriate for the work being performed; and play by ear simple melodies on a melodic instrument and simple accompaniments on a harmonic instrument.

Students who participate in an instrumental ensemble or class will, in addition, perform with expression and technical accuracy a varied repertoire of instrumental literature with a difficulty level of 3, on a scale of 1 to 6, including some solos performed from memory.

Improvisation

Students will improvise melodies, variations and accompaniments.

improvise simple harmonic accompaniments; improvise melodic embellishments and simple rhythmic and melodic variations on given pentatonic melodies and melodies in major keys; and improvise short melodies, unaccompanied and over given rhythmic accompaniments, each in a consistent style, meter and tonality.

Composition

Students will compose and arrange music.

compose short pieces within specified guidelines, demonstrating how the elements of music are used to achieve unity and variety, tension and release, and balance; arrange simple pieces for voices or instruments other than those for which the pieces were written; and use a variety of traditional and nontraditional sound sources and electronic media when composing and arranging.

Notation

Students will read and notate music.

read whole, half, quarter, eighth, sixteenth and dotted notes and rests in 2/4, 3/4, 4/4, 6/8, 3/8, and alla breve meter signatures; read at sight simple melodies in both the treble and bass clefs; identify and define standard notation symbols for pitch, rhythm, dynamics, tempo, articulation and expression; and use standard notation to record their musical ideas and the musical ideas of others.

Students who participate in a performing ensemble or class will, in addition, sight-read, accurately and expressively, music with a level of difficulty of 2, on a scale of 1 to 6.

Analysis

Students will listen to, describe and analyze music.

describe specific music events in a given aural example, using appropriate terminology; analyze the uses of elements of music in aural examples representing diverse genres and cultures; and demonstrate knowledge of the basic principles of meter, rhythm, tonality, intervals, chords and harmonic progressions in their analyses of music.

Evaluation

Students will evaluate music and music performances.

develop criteria for evaluating the quality and effectiveness of music performances and compositions and apply the criteria in their personal listening and performing; and evaluate the quality and effectiveness of their own and others' performances, compositions, arrangements and improvisations by applying specific criteria appropriate for the style of the music, and offer constructive suggestions for improvement.

Connections

Students will make connections between music, other disciplines and daily life.

compare in two or more arts how the characteristic materials of each art (sound in music, visual stimuli in visual arts, movement in dance, human relationships in theatre) can be used to transform similar events, scenes, emotions or ideas into works of art; describe ways in which the principles and subject matter of music and other disciplines taught in the school are interrelated; and identify a variety of music-related careers.

History And Cultures

Students will understand music in relation to history and culture.

describe distinguishing characteristics of representative music genres and styles from a variety of cultures; classify by genre and style (and, if applicable, by historical period, composer and title) a varied body of exemplary (that is, high-quality and characteristic) musical works, and explain the characteristics that cause each work to be considered exemplary; and compare, in several cultures of the world, the functions music serves, roles of musicians, and conditions under which music is typically performed.

Creating

Students will create theatre through improvising, writing and refining scripts.

individually and in groups, develop characters, environments and actions that create tension and suspense; and refine and record dialogue and action.

Acting

Students will act by developing, communicating and sustaining characters.

analyze dramatic text to discover, articulate and justify character motivation; invent character behaviors based on the observation of interactions, ethical choices and emotional responses of people; use acting skills (such as sensory recall, concentration, breath control, diction, body alignment, control of isolated body parts) to develop characterizations that reflect artistic choices; and in an ensemble, interact as the invented characters.

Technical Production

Students will design and produce the technical elements of theatre through artistic interpretation and execution.

describe and use the relationship among scenery, properties, lighting, sound, costumes and makeup in creating an environment appropriate for the drama; analyze improvised and scripted scenes for technical requirements; develop the environment using visual elements (line, texture, color, space), visual principles (repetition, balance, emphasis, contrast, unity) and aural qualities (pitch, rhythm, dynamics, tempo, expression) from traditional and nontraditional sources; and work collaboratively and safely to select and create elements of scenery, properties, lighting and sound to signify environments, and costumes and makeup to suggest character.

Directing

Students will direct by planning or interpreting works of theatre and by organizing and conducting rehearsals.

demonstrate social, group and consensus skills by leading small groups in planning visual and aural elements and in rehearsing improvised and scripted scenes.

Researching And Interpreting

Students will research, evaluate and apply cultural and historical information to make artistic choices.

apply research from print and nonprint sources to script writing, acting, design and directing choices.

Connections

Students will make connections between theatre, other disciplines and daily life.

describe characteristics and compare the presentation of characters, environments and actions in theatre, dance and visual arts; incorporate elements of dance, music and visual arts to express ideas and emotions in improvised and scripted scenes; express and compare personal reactions to several art forms; describe and compare the functions and interaction of performing artists, visual artists and audience members in theatre, dance, music and visual arts; describe ways in which the principles and subject matter of theater and other arts disciplines taught in school are interrelated; explain how social concepts such as cooperation, communication, collaboration, consensus, self-esteem, risk taking, sympathy and empathy apply in theatre and daily life; and explain the knowledge, skills and discipline needed to pursue careers and avocational opportunities in theatre.

Analysis, Criticism And Meaning

Students will analyze, critique and construct meanings from works of theatre.

describe and analyze the effect of publicity, study guides, programs and physical environments on audience response and appreciation of dramatic performances; articulate and support the meanings constructed from dramatic performances; use articulated criteria to describe, analyze and constructively evaluate the effectiveness of artistic choices in dramatic performances; and describe and evaluate the effectiveness of students' contributions (as playwrights, actors, designers and directors) to the collaborative process of developing improvised and scripted scenes.

History And Cultures

Students will demonstrate an understanding of context by analyzing and comparing theatre in various cultures and historical periods.

describe and compare universal characters and situations in dramas from and about various cultures and historical periods, create improvised and scripted scenes based on these universal characters and situations, and discuss how theatre reflects a culture; analyze the emotional and social impact of dramatic events in their lives, in the community and in other cultures; and explain how culture affects the content and design elements of dramatic performances.

Media

Students will understand, select and apply media, techniques and processes.

select media, techniques and processes to communicate ideas, reflect on their choices and analyze what makes them effective; improve the communication of their own ideas by effectively using the characteristics of a variety of traditional and contemporary art media, techniques and processes (two-dimensional and three-dimensional, including media/technology); and use different media, techniques and processes (two-dimensional and three-dimensional, including media/technology) to communicate ideas, feelings, experiences and stories.

Elements And Principles

Students will understand and apply elements and organizational principles of art.

use ways of arranging visual characteristics and reflect upon what makes them effective in conveying ideas; recognize and reflect on the effects of arranging visual characteristics in their own and others' work; and select and use the elements of art and principles of design to improve communication of their ideas.

Content

Students will consider, select and apply a range of subject matter, symbols and ideas.

consider, select from and apply a variety of sources for art content in order to communicate intended meaning; and consider and compare the sources for subject matter, symbols and ideas in their own and others' work.

History And Cultures

Students will understand the visual arts in relation to history and cultures.

know and compare the characteristics and purposes of works of art representing various cultures, historical periods and artists; describe and place a variety of specific significant art objects by artist, style and historical and cultural context; and analyze, describe and demonstrate how factors of time and place (such as climate, natural resources, ideas and technology) influence visual characteristics that give meaning and value to a work of art.

Analysis, Interpretation And Evaluation

Students will reflect upon, describe, analyze, interpret and evaluate their own and others' work.

compare and contrast purposes for creating works of art; describe and analyze visual characteristics of works of art using visual art terminology; compare a variety of individual responses to, and interpretations of, their own works of art and those from various eras and cultures; describe their own responses to, and interpretations of, specific works of art; reflect on and evaluate the quality and effectiveness of their own and others' work using specific criteria (e.g., technique, formal and expressive qualities, content); and describe/analyze their own artistic growth over time in relation to specific criteria.

Connections

Students will make connections between the visual arts, other disciplines and daily life.

compare the characteristics of works in the visual arts and other art forms that share similar subject matter, themes, purposes, historical periods or cultural context; describe ways in which the principles and subject matter of the visual arts and other disciplines taught in school are interrelated; combine the visual arts with another art form to create coherent multimedia work; apply visual arts knowledge and skills to solve problems common in daily life; and identify various careers that are available to artists.
